

Campaign Starts for $1,100,000 to Pay for Town Hall

Carnegie Corporation Makes
First Gift of $25,000 to Discharge Mortgage.

That a mortgage is nothing to have on New York's Town Hall was the sense of a meeting held at the Gotham Hotel yesterday, where steps were taken to wipe out the indebtedness by raising $1,100,000. A campaign for the money will be started today, a special committee consisting of Henry Waters Taft, chairman, Mrs. Elton H. Gould, vice-chairman, Mrs. C. B. Alexander, George W. Wickham, Mr. E. Henry Hartman, Frank A. Vanderbilt, Otto H. Kahn, Henry Morganthau, Morgan J. O'Brien, Robert E. Simon, Mrs. Henry Fairfield and Adolph Lewisohn directing the search.

It was announced that one who contributes $10,000 or more becomes a founder and his name will be permanently preserved in the history of New York on a bronze tablet on the main floor or on a bronze plate affixed to a lodge. Five hundred thousand dollars of the amount is required at once, it is said.

During the meeting Mr. John A. Poynton, a member of the board of directors of the League for Political Education, which founded the Town Hall, announced a gift of $25,000 from the Carnegie Corporation.

In a brief address Mr. Taft said: "To tell the truth the Town Hall must be obtainable on short notice for any gathering of public usefulness at the bare cost of heat, lighting and attendance. The two upper floors will be rented and the rest of the building will be used for the whole building and yet the hall will be freed for service."

Among those present were Mrs. Oliver Hartman, Mrs. John Harlan Rhoades, Mrs. William Reynolds Ingle, Miss Laura V. Day, Mrs. Dunlap Hopkins, Mrs. E. L. Gould, Mrs. W. Scott Cameron, Miss Maude A. Leland, Mrs. William H. Taft, Jr., Mrs. Schuyler N. Warren, Mrs. Robert G. Mead and Mrs. George W. Bonhotal.

HAROLD J. Gross and his sister, Mrs. Andrew Weeks Anthony, will go to Washington tomorrow to be with their parents, Senator and Mrs. Le Baron B. Colt, for the inauguration.

Mrs. Henry Lipitt of San Diego, Cal., who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. P. Almy, in Philadelphia, is in Providence with her father, one of the Senators, Senator Henry P. Lipitt and Mrs. Lipitt.

STANDARD OIL COUNSEL

MARRIES Mrs. CUMINGS

Chester O. Swain Weds
Widow of J. B. Cumings.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Brooklyn, Mass., March 1.—The wedding of Mrs. Florence Thayer Cumings, widow of John Bradley Cumings of New York, and Mr. Chester O. Swain, Harvard 1900, also of New York, took place yesterday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. George A. Thayer, 719 Tappan street. The Rev. Abbot Peterson officiated.

Mrs. Cumings was attended by her two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cumings of New York, Harvard 1919, and Mr. Thayer Cumings, who is a student at St. Mark's School at Southboro. Because of the loss of another son, Wells Cumings, in the war, the wedding was simple, only members of the respective families being in attendance.

Mr. Swain is widely known as general counsel for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The couple will pass their honeymoon in the South. Mrs. Swain's New York home is at 1670 Madison avenue.

L. M. THOMAS WEDDING

PALM BEACH MYSTERY

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
PALM BEACH, Fla., March 1.—Leonard M. Thomas of New York denied today that he had married Mrs. Marie Gode Sackett, formerly the wife of Austin Townsend Sackett of New Haven, Conn. While he would not deny the engagement or that they were married, he said he was annoyed that reports had reached New York and had published the news of the wedding was to take place today at El Mirasol, the home here of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury.

The story has caused something of a mystery here. Mr. Thomas is flying today with Howard Drayton, but efforts to locate Mrs. Sackett were without result, although she was known to be in Palm Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury said they could not take any light on the matter, but were sure no wedding had taken place at their home.

OPERA AT LEWISOHN HOME.

Mr. Adolph Lewisohn will open his ballroom at 881 Fifth avenue Wednesday evening, March 3, for the presentation of excerpts from the operas "Simon Boccanegra" and "The Barber of Seville." The audience, which will be assisted by Misses Eliza Ward and Helen Levinson, Thomas MacGranahan and Edwin Marshall.

LITERATI HONOR HOWELLS.

Nearly a thousand distinguished admirers of William Dean Howells gathered at the Public Library yesterday to honor the eighty-fourth anniversary of his birth. It was announced that the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters had accepted $3,000 to be used for a gold medal "to commemorate the name of our great American novelist." Henry van Dyke, Augustus Thomas, Hamilton Gardner, Matthew William Milligan Stone and others made addresses eulogizing the "Master of American Letters." The donor of the medal, who styled himself as the admirer of Howells and a friend of the Academy, prefers to remain unknown.

J. William Souther and Bride at Palm Beach

Mrs. Souther was Miss Georgette Cohan, and their elopement and marriage recently interested the winter colony. The bride is a daughter of George M. Cohan. Her mother is Mrs. Claude Grahame White.

MR. AND MRS. PAYNE WHITNEY AND PARTY AT PALM BEACH

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 1.—To-day brought many prominent arrivals both to the hotels and the cottage colony. The beach was thronged at the bathing hour, and this afternoon interest was divided between the tennis tournament and a baseball game, while the usual round of teas followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney reached here in their private car to spend a couple of weeks at the Royal Poinciana Hotel. With them are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hay, Messrs. Courland D. Barnes and George W. Warren, Mr. Quincy A. Shaw 2d also came down with their party and is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Mitchell at Reef Cottage, on the ocean front. Mr. Barnes, one of the Senators, and Mrs. Le Baron B. Colt, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. P. Almy, in Philadelphia, is in Providence with her father, one of the Senators, Senator Henry P. Lipitt and Mrs. Lipitt.

MISS WINWOOD IN ROLE REJANE PLAYED

'Amoureux,' Adapted Into English, Is Interesting.

Henry Baron produced at the Bijou Theatre yesterday afternoon at the first of a series of matinees Porto Rico's famous play "Amoureux," which the dramatist wrote more than a quarter of a century ago for Mme. Rejane, then in the flower of her fame in Paris. Mr. Baron moreover attempted to adapt the drama to American life, which even a more experienced dramatist would have hesitated to do. For this foreign study of Gallic marital ethics could never be acclimated here. The expert in the sex psychology of married life would never make the experiment of placing such adventures in an American milieu. It must stay put where the playwright originally discovered and wisely left it.

Mr. Baron called his adaptation "The Tyranny of Love." Miss Estelle Winwood played with appropriate coquetry and later with passionate feeling the part of the too devoted wife, Cyrill. Her husband gave a plausible performance of the too much pampered husband, although the reference to his physical charms had to be accepted as the broadest of broad strokes. The play is a fine demonstration that violent recrimination and later despairing resignation were very well acted by Miss Winwood and Mr. Baron. The play is a fine study of an expert playwright falls to her lot. The Tyranny of Love was an interesting revealing of the work of a foreign playwright in one of his famous dramas. As a picture of American family life it was of course inconceivable.

ST. AUGUSTINE.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Miss Mary Garden Now Heads Five Opera Companies

Parent Corporation Split to Facilitate Movement—
Faces Big Deficit.

Miss Mary Garden, who up to yesterday was the director general of the Chicago Opera Company as well as star soprano of that operatic aggregation, now is the executive head of five opera companies.

This development was made known last night when she announced that four new incorporated opera companies had evolved from the parent organization. The new organizations are the Othello Opera Company, C. A. Shaw, manager; the Chicago Opera Company, C. A. Shaw, manager; the Chicago Opera Company, C. A. Shaw, manager; the Chicago Opera Company, C. A. Shaw, manager; the Chicago Opera Company, C. A. Shaw, manager.

It was made known by Miss Garden through her business representative, George M. Spangler, whose official standing remains that of manager of the Chicago Opera Company, that the new companies will not have a separate existence but merely form a cooperative whole, in explanation of which the following statement was made:

"Traveling at five distinct companies for transportation convenience, the Chicago Opera Association starts from New York next Sunday on a transcontinental tour of the greatest dimensions ever undertaken in America, following a record season of six weeks at the Manhattan Opera House. It was found that to prevent confusion, to facilitate loading and unloading and to add to the comfort of all concerned it would be wise to make a unique arrangement and divide the large company and its enormous equipment into units. Each traveling together, these units will be under separate command, moving on a time card such as the operating department of a railroad itself uses."

One of the business executives of the Chicago Opera Company said last night that the company will have played to a grand total of $500,000 by the time it will have completed the season of six weeks in New York next Saturday night. "But," he added, "if you possessed the deficit incurred by this visit to New York you would be able to live in affluence the rest of your life."

The informant would not venture to give the figures involved, but added that the financial backers of the company would be called upon to make payments of $100,000 to the company. And the tremendous cost of giving opera makes it impossible to break even, even with packed houses.

The highest price bid in the sale to date was $639, paid by Charles Scribner & Son for a first edition of an extremely rare colored plate, "The Sporting Repository," London, 1822, with plates by Alken and Pargent. "The Annals of Sporting and Game Gazette," London, 1822-23; a complete set of a famous sporting magazine with colored plates by Alken, Cruikshank and others, sold to L. C. Harper for $190.

DETROINED KING OF MONTENEGRO DEAD

Nicholas Had Lived in France
Since Union of Jugo-Slav State.

ASTORIA, France, March 1.—King Nicholas of Montenegro died here today.

The Queen of Italy, daughter of Nicholas, has been advised of the death of her father, and she and King Victor Emmanuel are expected to come here for the funeral. The date of the funeral, however, has not been fixed.

Nicholas I. of Montenegro was born in October 1841. He was proclaimed Prince of Montenegro as successor to his uncle, Danilo I., in 1859, and assumed the title of King under a revolution passed unanimously by the National Skupstina in 1910 on the occasion of the fifteenth anniversary of his accession.

During the world war Montenegro participated on the side of the Allies. When the armistice was signed the Serbian ordered elections for National Assembly for Nicholas and governs terms were imposed on the principality by the convention of Scutari.

Fourteen years of peace followed, but Montenegro during this time suffered greatly from pestilence and famine. Notwithstanding this Nicholas carried out a series of reforms, reorganizing the army, initiating an educational system and granting a constitution under which he surrendered various prerogatives to the Senate. In 1916 Prince Nicholas formed an alliance with the Allies against the Turks and declared war against Turkey. His troops recovered the seaboard which had belonged to Montenegro during the Middle Ages.

Nicholas was the father of ten children. He married in 1866 Milena Petrovna Vukotich, the daughter of a Senator.
